

Inland Waterways Association of Ireland

IWAI Corporate Membership

About IWAI

IWAI is a voluntary body of waterways enthusiasts, founded in 1954. It was formed to promote the development, use and maintenance of Ireland's navigable rivers and canals. When the Shannon was almost totally undeveloped for pleasure boating, the IWAI fought the building of low bridges, thus ensuring the development of the river as a national asset. Later the IWAI successfully fought the threatened closure of the Grand Canal in Dublin and has done much to instigate the improvement of the Barrow and to focus interest and activity on the restoration of the Royal Canal, the Ulster Canal and other closed navigations. The IWAI is the respected voice of the waterway user, lobbying and advising national and local government authorities as well as other bodies on all matters connected with the waterways including pollution and future developments.

Corporate Member Logo

With the use of IWAI's corporate member logo, your company or organisation will be recognised as supporting the national charity concerned with the conservation, restoration and use of the inland waterways. The logo is widely recognised by boaters and other waterway users nationally. A recent survey of members indicated that they are far more likely to buy products or services from corporate members of the Association.
